

Lake Capote opening day

Capote opens amid scattered snow flurries

Lake Capote opened the gates to fisherman on Thursday, April 12. Snow flurries interspersed with clear skies and crisp air did not deter the many fisherman who descended on the lake for opening day. Drawing anglers from the Ignacio community and as far south as Farmington, New Mexico. Derby prizes were awarded totaling in the hundred dollar range for specially tagged fish. Lake Manager Craig Reinhart manned the bait shop with a little help from Parks and Recreation Manager Josh Batchelor. Capote is now open for the season!

photos Jeremy Wade Shockley/SU DRUM

